

daily feed™

the BUNRAB blog spot

Sunday, July 6, 2008

permalink

Charles Chocolates makes some delicious meltable morsels and we have been lucky enough to encounter them on many occasions.

Not only do they make child-safe varieties (like their luscious peanut butter filled butterflies):

.. there are also ones that they infuse (and pair) with Teance Tea:

... as well as a parade of fruity, nutty and caramel-filled nuggets. They even make moutho-degradable boxes with edible chocolate artwork – the ultimate in green packaging.

After you spend this week camped out in line for your new iPhone, you will be in the mood for a culinary treat. If you have been shy about visiting the Charles Chocolate Bar:

...there is no better time than next Saturday. You can taste their goods, scope out their new enrobing machine and sync up a different kind of pod to your cereal port.